

Hello Precious One,

I am so thrilled that you are willing to embark on an adventure with Father God through the help of the Holy Spirit and for Jesus to be glorified in your life and God's plans for your marriage!

Posture of Our Hearts As We Pray

As I pray and reflect on this adventure of praying God's will concerning your marriage, I thought to share some thoughts with you on the posture of our hearts as we come to pray.

Firstly, I believe that our time together will be one where God will pour out His grace and anointing to pray in line with "His" will for your marriage. Let's prepare our hearts to come without an agenda. Our time of prayer will be focused on God's desires for your marriage not yours. As simple as that statement is, it is pivotal to each one of us receiving what God has prepared for us. The focus is on each one of us praying God's perfect will for our marriage, praying for God's choice for each person not one's own idea, agreeing with His will.

Secondly, it is important that you prepare for this time, thinking about your life and God's desires for your marriage. Areas such as your upbringing and background, your views on marriage, impact of past relationships on you, where you need healing, dreams, and desires on your heart to name a few etc. You are only as healthy as your marriage, so your journey of waiting, it is important to keep preparing your heart for what God has prepared for you. You need a vision at the forefront of your mind for your life and marriage and this can only be inspired by the Holy Spirit. Ask God to speak to you and show you His vision for your marriage while you wait.

Thirdly, as you know praying and fasting can be very effective in shifting things in the Spirit and the Bible shows us some things are only dealt with through prayer and fasting so I wish to encourage you to incorporate fasting during this time of prayers whether it is the whole length or a few days here and there, God sees our hearts and honours our sacrifices.

Finally, please be mindful that the enemy will/could try and attack you at this time through lies and distractions to prevent what God has planned to happen at this time, so be a quick forgiver and make allowances in your relationships if things that may seek to upset you happen. Stay focused on your goal of praying and don't get distracted. God has given us the victory already. We declare that there will be testimonies even from now because of our intention to stay focussed on God and, the gates of hell will not prevail in Jesus' name.

Looking forward to what God will do.

Expecting.

In His love and mine,
Kemi
